Presentment Of Grand Jury. OCTOBER TERM 1894.

To His Honor, R. C. Watts, Presiding Judge.

At the close of this Session and af ter carefully going over and passing upon all Bills handed us by the Solic itor, the Grand Jury submit the fol lowing report for consideration.

We recommend that the members of the Legislature, have pass ed at the setting of the next General Assembly, a bill authorizing the Clerk of the Court to reindex the Books of said office, according to the system now in vogue in Anderson County. 4th. We have visited the Poor

House. Complaints having reached us that the management of the Poor House has been bad and the food sup plied to the inmates of insufficient quantity and inferior quality, we in skillful and experienced physician en with law. gaged to attend to the sick inmates of the establishment gave the matter his special attention and reports that the sanitary arrangements are good and so far as he has been able to see the in mates are furnished with an abun dance of wholesome food and are prop erly looked after. It is a common REV. HENRY THOMPSON SLOAN, D.D. thing to find fault with all such char table establishments and we are grati fied to relieve the public mind from all apprehension that Abbeville Coun ty is derelict in her care of the unfor tunate inmates of her Poor House.

Trial Justice sching as Coroner in conducting inquisitions do not employ but one physician to make the necessary autopsy, and where the cause of death is apparent and nothing oriminal stateded that an Doctor be employed. We know of several cases where public/funds have been wasted, to wit: The dead body of Andrew Robinson, this man died a natural death as the evidence at in quest showed, which after being but eld three days was taken up at the mere suggestion of suparsitious negroes and examined thus imposing debt on the Court House and haves house of necessity built for the accommodation of jurors and witnesses coming to Court. We have had complaints of the band condition of throads and streams in the county. We would recommend that they be loosed after at once.
